

From the editor

Easter Sunday seems like the perfect day to unveil a slightly different Stella. Nothing dramatic, just a freshen up of the design, and a new column, The Alternative, which introduces you to the complementary practitioners we can personally vouch for. Rest assured, all the elements that make Stella special every week are still here - the best fashion, beauty, food and interiors. And our fabulous reads, which range from an interview with Jennifer Garner, to a look at what marrying for a second time really means (by a writer who vowed she never would!)
